

THE HILL

April 10 | Issue 306

thehill.greatbritishlife.co.uk

WHAT'S ON

To 3 April Ghost Stories

A truly terrifying theatre experience from Jeremy Dyson (The League of Gentlemen) and Andy Nyman (Derren Brown – Mind Control). The show contains moments of extreme shock and tension and those of a nervous disposition are warned to think carefully about attending. Exciting.

Lyric Hammersmith, King Street W6
0871 2211 722
lyric.co.uk

21 April-19 May

Conjunction Continuous

Works by Pakpoom Silaphan who uses metal advertising signs collected from rural Thailand, where he grew up, as canvases and adorns them with images of famous western icons including Andy Warhol, Che Guevara, Woody Allen and Mohammed Ali. Paul Smith and Richard Curtis are fans of his work.

Apart gallery, 133-137 Westbourne Grove W11 2RS

PREVIEW

27-29 April

Postcards anon

An exhibition of anonymous postcard art, where visitors are invited to buy works by established as well as emerging artists, all for a flat fee of £25. Can you spot the gems? Former contributors include Maggi Hambling, Norman Ackroyd and Jan Pienkowski. Private View: Tuesday 27th April 2010, 6.30-9pm (minimum donation £15/person with all proceeds going to West London Action for Children).

Kensington & Chelsea College,
Hortensia Road, SW10 0QS
020 7352 1155 wlac.org.uk

Various dates

Hidden Herstories

A documentary film that uncovers four of history's most significant yet unsung heroines. Made by 20 young people aged 13 to 24 from around Ladbroke Grove, the community project was set up by local housing charity Octavia Foundation and features big names including Gurindha Chadha, Ms Dynamite and Tristram Hunt. Free screenings take place during April at the Tabernacle, Westbourne Studios and other venues; check online for details.

hiddenherstories.org

15 April-8 May

Health of the Planet

An exhibition of x-rays of the plants of the Amazon by Steve Miller. The images inspire an unsettling awareness of the inner workings of the forests that are the lungs of our planet.

Gallery Maya,
28 Chepstow Corner, W2 4XE
020 7229 6279 gallerymaya.co.uk